ORGANISATION

- This practice is designed to develop player awareness and scanning in a fun, game-like setting. Set within a 15 by 20-yard area, players are split into three teams of three, each distinguished by different coloured hats or headbands to encourage visual scanning.
- One team begins as defenders while the other two attack, aiming to keep possession and switch play between the top and bottom players. The Blue team acts as the overload, with fixed players on the top and bottom lines to create space and promote wide options.
- Play is continuous and highly engaging throughout the session.

KEY COACHING POINTS SUMMARY

- Scan frequently before receiving to identify teammates, space, and defensive pressure
- Receive on the outside shoulder to break lines with your first touch
- Use wide players early to switch play and exploit the overload effectively
- Split the midfield when opportunities are created

KEY COACHING POINT

Play on the shoulder to break the defensive line with your first touch, continuously scanning the field and communicating with teammates to create passing and attacking opportunities.

PROGRESSION

When possession is lost, immediately transition to defend as a unit, closing passing lanes, pressing quickly, and working collectively to regain the ball and prevent a counter-attack.

BETTER COACHES. BETTER PLAYERS.
